Dimensions

For Open Access Week, Training Centre in Communication was honored to host the Lesotho academic community for a workshop introducing Open Access tools to improve their research output and visibility. Collaborating partners, PLOS, and LeLiCo speakers spoke on the current state of Open Access and existing opportunities especially in collaborating with partners in supporting the academic community in the Global South.

Speakers:

Dr. Buhle Mbambo Thata - LELICO

Ms. Roheena Anand - PLOS

Ms. Joy Owango - TCC Africa

Recording of the session:

About Lesotho Library Consortium (LELICO)

The Lesotho Library Consortium (LELICO) was founded in 2003 and consists of 12 libraries (academic, national, and special). This consortium was formed in response to the need to improve resource sharing among the libraries in Lesotho. Its purpose is to provide information and documentation of services to members by harnessing and sharing national and international resources through the utilization of information and communication technologies (ICTs).

About PLOS

PLOS is a nonprofit, Open Access publisher empowering researchers to accelerate progress in science and medicine by leading a transformation in research communication.
